SEC. 402. FINDINGS.

(2) De novo bank formation has slowed significantly following the financial crisis.

(3) A November 2019 report by the Federal Reserve System found that 44 counties in the U.S. were "deeply affected" by trends in bank closures and consolidation (i.e., had fewer than 10 branches in 2012 and lost at least 50 percent of them by 2017).

(4) 89 percent of the deeply affected counties were rural.

(5) Rural counties deeply affected by branch closures had higher poverty rates, lower median income, and a higher share of their population were African American compared to all rural communities.
